3. Status, governance and organization of the Caisse des dépôts et consignations (CDC) are governed by articles L.518-2 et seq and R.518-1 et seq of the French monetary and financial Code

Article L.518-2 of the French monetary and financial Code:

“The Caisse des dépôts et consignations and its subsidiaries constitute a public group in the service of the country's general interest and economic development. Said group fulfils public interest duties in support of the public policies pursued by the State and the local authorities and may engage in competitive activities.

The Caisse des dépôts et consignations is a special institution responsible for the administration of deposits and consignments, the provision of services relating to the funds whose management has been entrusted to it, and the performance of other similar duties which are legally delegated to it. It is responsible for the protection popular savings, the financing of social housing and the management of pension schemes. It also contributes to local and national economic development, particularly in the spheres of employment, urban policy, combating exclusion from banking and finance, company startups and sustainable development.

The Caisse des dépôts et consignations is a long-term investor and contributes, consistent with its proprietary interests, to the development of companies.

The Caisse des dépôts et consignations is placed, in the most exceptional manner, under the supervision and guarantee of the legislative authorities. It is organised as determined in a decree issued following consultation with the Conseil d'Etat on a proposal from the Supervisory Commission (Commission de Surveillance).”
